

Dear Advanced Fibers team,

Time flies incredibly fast – it has been already more than a half year since I had left the laboratory. Great time we had all together at FRPM21 in Budapest seems to me like it was just yesterday!

My move to Basel went smoothly and I settled down well in a beautiful quiet part of Kleinbasel. I really enjoy living next to Rhine, along which I walk to and back from work; I chill at during lunch breaks and sometimes on weekends.

A bit eclectic lifestyle of the city, vibes of different cultures, science and art are just in the air of Basel and make it so wonderful to discover. I am really looking forward to Art Basel, summertime swimming in the river as well as trying to swim to work. 😊

Work at Huntsman goes great, though it was quite a big change from so familiar to me academic environment. I am especially happy that I could continue to work in the same field as it was at Empa, where I gained advantageous knowledge, skills and the professional network. I really hope we will have a chance to collaborate and a great opportunity to meet again!

Folks, I miss you all!

Warmest greetings from Basel!
